Lives and work in Rio de Janeiro

Paula Costa is a multimedia artist who researches the beauty in finiteness as a way to relate to her own background. Holding a degree in Marketing, she's been through painting, drawing and video installation courses as well as a writing research and practice lab at Escola de Artes Visuais do Parque Lage, in Rio de Janeiro. She moves between dichotomies such as finiteness and eternity; infiniteness and transience; ephemerality and materiality through living art. The canvas can be a leaf or a rose and the artworks are abstract paintings initiated by the artist but completed by the action of time.
